Material Changes 2010 – Year in review summary

Cedar Hill made four operational changes during the year.

1. As the General Partner and Manager for several private funds exclusive to Cedar Hill (“proprietary funds”), we are required to comply with Rule 206(4)-2, commonly known as the Custody Rule. Per the Rule, an independent auditor must have completed auditing financial statements for pooled (multiple investor) funds of funds as of June 30 for every year of operation. If a fund’s audited financial statements are not available by June 30, an independent auditor must make a surprise custody audit of the fund and a qualified custodian must distribute quarterly statements of the fund’s total assets to investors. A fund’s custodian is not required to send a report of an individual investor’s net asset value in the fund.

For year-end 2009 to present, we complied with the Custody Rule for three of Cedar Hill’s proprietary funds by having the 2009 audits completed by June 30, 2010. For each of our seven proprietary funds, whose audits could not be completed by the June 30 deadline, independent audit firms conducted surprise custody audits and custodial accounts were established at Mesirow Financial, Inc., a qualified custodian. Mesirow sends statements of each fund’s aggregate portfolio directly to investors. We suggest our clients compare their fund reports received from Cedar Hill to the reports from the qualified custodian.

2. Structured Finance Opportunity Fund, LP, one of the proprietary funds, is in the process of winding down and liquidating the underlying assets. The first distribution to investors began in February 2010 and by year-end over one-third of the assets had been distributed. When liquidation is completed, the fund will undergo a final audit as required by the Custody Rule.
3. In November 2010, Dawn Keach was designated as Cedar Hill’s Chief Compliance Officer.
4. Cedar Hill’s Alternative Investment Valuation Policy was updated in December and distributed to clients with their year-end reporting package.

Cedar Hill has made no other material changes to structure, personnel, or operations.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT

Managing Core Equity Investments

Through a rigorous process based upon in-depth analysis, Cedar Hill constructs a diversified portfolio of companies that have attractive growth prospects relative to valuation, or are undervalued relative to their net asset value. Cedar Hill evaluates companies based on quantitative metrics as well as qualitatively assessing corporate management, business strategy and macro factors impacting the industry. Importantly, Cedar Hill analyzes an investment's risk before addressing the potential return opportunity.

We focus on a company's profitability, financial resources, market position, and the track record of the management team. Additionally, we assess the competitive landscape within the industry, identifying key macro trends as well as economic, political, and regulatory risks. We determine valuation by using internally generated earnings and cash flow projections.

Price targets are developed for each company in the portfolio and reassessed based on business and economic trends. Portfolio positions are eliminated when one of three conditions occurs:

1. the company's stock has met our price objective, or
2. another position offers better risk/reward characteristics, or
3. deterioration in the business or industry has made the company susceptible to a permanent impairment.

By creating a diversified portfolio of attractive companies, and performing thorough analysis throughout the life cycle of each investment, our Core Equity Portfolio is designed to produce sound, risk-adjusted returns.

Managing Fixed Income Investments

Fixed income securities represent a highly liquid investment vehicle for producing income and relative safety of principal, while providing some diversification to equity investments.

For taxable accounts, municipal bonds may offer attractive after-tax income, as most issues are exempt from federal income tax. Additionally, some issues provide state tax exemption, depending upon state of residence. For tax deferred/exempt accounts, a diversified portfolio generally consists of corporate and government bonds, as well as asset-backed securities. Prior to selecting individual securities, we analyze general economic trends and the prevailing supply/demand for newly issued securities. This information is important in considering short- and long-term changes in interest rates, as well as shifts in the yield curve, which charts the relationship between interest rates and time to maturity of similar securities. We then construct a diversified portfolio of bonds consistent with this outlook.

CEDAR HILL

Our bond portfolios represent high credit quality, short to intermediate maturities and are diversified by issuer. Our domestic and international fixed income selection process engages economic analysis, yield curve assessment, security selection through numerous channels to identify securities and continuous review of portfolio.

Alternative Investment Strategies

We advise clients on suitable interests in limited partnerships and publicly traded securities investing in hedge funds, private equity, oil and natural gas resources, real estate and specialty finance. Our proprietary limited partnerships are:

1. Paragon Master Fund, LP and Paragon QP Master Fund, LP, event-driven hedge funds of funds,
2. Phoenix Master Fund, LP, a long-short equity fund of funds,
3. Cedar Hill Partners I, LLC, private equity fund of funds,
4. Cedar Hill Partners II, LLC, private equity funds of funds,
5. Cedar Hill Actis Emerging Markets Fund, LLC, an emerging markets private equity fund,
6. RLF Opportunity Fund, LLC, a natural resources private equity fund,

8. Cedar Hill Global Asset Fund, LLC, a private real estate fund of funds, and
9. Structured Finance Opportunity Master Fund, LP, a specialty finance fund of funds.

Our proprietary alternative investment funds are described on pages 7-10.

We employ non-traditional investments to complement conventional equity and fixed income portfolios for qualified clients. Promoting diversification of investments is important to our strategy. Opportunities for qualified clients may include, but are not limited to, the following strategies:

Event Driven and Relative Value Strategies strive for capital appreciation through the allocation of assets among a select group of investment managers, consisting of distressed securities, credit exposure, capital structure arbitrage, merger arbitrage, and special situations.

Long/Short Equity focuses on domestic and global managers who attempt to add value through selecting stocks and adjusting market exposure levels. These strategies capitalize on market inefficiencies and pricing anomalies in equity markets.

CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

Private Equity Strategies pursue non-public investments offering return possibilities through capital appreciation in domestic, international, and emerging markets. Opportunities include, but are not limited to, middle market buyouts, growth capital, distressed securities, energy, financial services, and properties rich in natural resources.

Natural Resource Strategies seek to capitalize on the cyclical and secular outlook for oil, natural gas, land, and commodities, among others.

Real Estate investments include income producing and value added properties identified on an opportunistic basis.

Specialty Finance Strategies strive for appreciation of assets held by a select group of specialty finance companies and individual investments. Opportunities may include financing of:

- payments owed by vendors (receivable financing),
- assets owned by manufacturers and distributors (asset based financing),
- real estate, and
- secured loans.

CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

These strategies attempt to capitalize on market inefficiencies and price anomalies in the domestic and international markets.

2. Phoenix Master Fund, LP and its two investor funds, Phoenix Fund, LP and Phoenix Offshore Fund (BVI), Ltd.

There is no performance allocation if the annual profits are a recovery of prior losses, if any ("high-water mark" provision). The 10% annual hurdle is reduced on a pro rata basis if an investment is made after the beginning of the year. Phoenix Offshore Fund (BVI), Ltd. pays the Investment Manager at each year-end 10% of any increase over the 10% hurdle and high-water mark described above.

CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

All fees paid to Cedar Hill are in addition to brokerage and custody fees and other fees and expenses clients incur in assets supervised by, but not managed by Cedar Hill. These assets include separate accounts managed by other managers, limited partnerships, and no-load mutual funds. Fees and expenses are described in the respective investment management agreements, offering memorandums, subscription agreements, and mutual fund prospectuses. These fees generally include an investment management fee, expense reimbursement, performance fees (in limited partnerships) and, in the case of mutual funds, may include distribution fees. We do not use funds that impose either initial or deferred sales charges. Cedar Hill does not receive brokerage commissions or any portion of fees and expenses paid to other managers, limited partnerships, or mutual funds.

As a courtesy to certain clients, we will, on occasion, arrange to process securities transactions for “Friends and Family” accounts. These transactions are non-discretionary in nature and not subject to continuous and regular supervisory or management services. We do not have ongoing responsibility to select or make recommendations based upon the needs of the client and we process securities transactions of Friends and Family accounts upon request as an accommodation, without charging an investment management fee.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

As we’ve discussed in the preceding section on fees and compensation, our management fees are asset and not performance-based. A client may, however, be invested in one of Cedar Hill’s proprietary funds as a part of their portfolio allocation and a conflict of interest exists because some of the funds have a performance fee or allocation directed to Cedar Hill as the investment manager.

Cedar Hill has mitigated any conflict of interest in the management of the funds by employing some of the following constraints:

- allocating both profit and loss to Cedar Hill,
- returning invested capital before Cedar Hill receives any profit allocation, and/or
- investing personal capital into the funds alongside client capital.

Each fund has specific fees or allocations, and differing restrictions on payments to Cedar Hill may be used. Fees or compensation paid to Cedar Hill as manager are fully disclosed in the private offering memorandums provided to qualified potential investors.

CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Cedar Hill provides investment advice to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, and businesses, and serves as the General Partner or Manager of several proprietary funds of funds.

In general, Cedar Hill's minimum account size is $1,000,000.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

Our investment methodology is rooted in fundamental analysis, which involves analyzing a company's past and current financial performance to make assumptions about its future prospects. We complement our quantitative and qualitative analysis of individual companies with a broader assessment of macroeconomic and industry trends that could influence each entity's performance. The information is used to generate earnings and cash flow projections for each security to determine its appropriate valuation.

We believe our analytical approach helps us to identify companies with attractive growth prospects relative to valuation or those trading at a significant discount to intrinsic value, allowing us to purchase securities at a cost that provides the potential for substantial price appreciation. However, there is a risk that our analysis process could lead us to overestimate the value of a company and purchase the underlying security at a price above its intrinsic value. In such an instance, the investor would suffer a financial loss equal to the difference between what was originally paid for a security and the price for which it was later sold. If the value of a particular security declined to zero, the investor would lose the entire value of the investment.

Investment strategies used to implement Cedar Hill's investment advice include long- and short-term purchases, but our view is long term and we do not participate in day trading. We disclose relevant risks to clients considering specific investment strategies.

Investments chosen for a client's portfolio may include the following:

- Equity Securities – exchange listed, over the counter, foreign issues,
- Option contracts on securities (no commodity contracts),
- Warrants,
- US Government and international securities,
- Corporate debt securities and commercial paper,
- Mortgage-backed securities,
- Municipal securities,
- Partnerships – real estate, oil and gas interests, private equity, venture capital, and
- Proprietary partnerships – funds of funds and special purpose vehicles.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions, and Personal Trading

All personnel of Cedar Hill Associates, LLC have a fiduciary duty to place the interests of clients ahead of their own and ahead of the interests of the firm. Cedar Hill personnel must avoid activities, interests and relationships that might interfere with making decisions in the best interests of the clients and every person at Cedar Hill is required to annually certify their compliance with the firm's Code of Ethics. A copy of the Code is available to clients or prospective clients of the firm upon written request.

Cedar Hill personnel may recommend to clients that they buy or sell securities or investment products in which the applicant or a related person has some financial interest. Our employees also may buy or sell securities that we recommend to clients.

We mitigate the potential conflict of interest by requiring all Cedar Hill personnel to have personal or related persons transactions approved by Cedar Hill's President or Chairman prior to execution. Cedar Hill personnel may not trade in an exchange traded or listed security (excluding bonds or mutual funds) on the same day that the security has been traded in a client's account. Employees of Cedar Hill Associates, LLC are not allowed to participate in initial public offerings.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Unless otherwise directed in writing, our firm uses Mesirow Financial, Inc., an unaffiliated broker/dealer, under an Investment Advisor Direct Program, subject to ongoing best execution analysis. Under this Agreement, our clients are charged a flat handling fee of $9 per transaction. We trade for client accounts on an aggregate basis whenever applicable. Though Mesirow's fee has already been negotiated and aggregate practices will not achieve any volume transaction discount, clients benefit from aggregate trades by receiving an average cost per share preventing any conflicts of one client realizing a more favorable purchase or sale price than another client.

We monitor whether or not we are receiving best execution based upon quarterly reports Mesirow Financial provides, which include both a summary and our actual best execution statistics. We review these reports on a quarterly basis to determine if Mesirow Financial, Inc. is fulfilling their duty to provide best execution, and if not, we would reevaluate the program. Clients, however, are free to choose the broker-dealer of their choice in connection with their securities transactions. By designating a specific broker, the client may or may not receive best execution and/or the commission discount may or may not be favorable.

We pay cash for the research we use and do not engage in soft dollar transactions.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Accounts are formally reviewed on a rotating basis by at least three members of the firm, including:

- Alan Cole, President/Portfolio Manager,
- Chris Engelman, Managing Director,
- Robin Patinkin, Principal/ Client Services,
- Dan Jones, Principal/Client Services, or
- Debbi Frenzel, Principal/Operations.

Cedar Hill reviews portfolios to insure that we comply with the objectives and guidelines for asset allocation which we and have agreed upon with our client. A client's written investment policy statement includes return objectives, risk tolerance, time horizons, income and liquidity needs, tax, estate, and legal considerations, and unique circumstances.

We make ongoing investment decisions in response to changes in the attractiveness of securities in the market and the economic environment. In addition, Cedar Hill reviews portfolios with clients in periodic meetings to determine if their investment objectives or financial circumstances have changed.

Clients receive formal written quarterly reviews of their accounts. The reports list each portfolio holding under appropriate asset class and provide the following information:

- Summary cover sheet
- Security – name, quantity, average unit cost, average dollar cost, current value, current market price, percentage holding of portfolio, indicated income and yield
- Time-weighted rates of return compared to appropriate benchmarks

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We have arrangements with investment and professional services firms under which we remit a portion of our investment management fee (typically 25% of annual fee, paid quarterly) for client referrals. Such arrangements are in compliance with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

A conflict of interest exists between the solicitors' referral of clients to us and their receipt of fees for such referral and the conflict is fully disclosed to clients.

CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

Item 15 – Custody

Cedar Hill’s clients must have their securities held by a qualified custodian such as a bank, a clearing house, or a broker-dealer, and receive statements directly from the custodian. Cedar Hill cannot act as custodian for client assets.

As the General Partner or Manager for several proprietary funds, Cedar Hill is required to comply with Rule 206(4)-2, known as the Custody Rule. Per the Rule, pooled (multiple investor) funds of funds must have audited financial statements completed by an independent auditor as of June 30. If audited financial statements are not available by June 30, the fund must have a surprise custody audit by an independent auditor and also have statements of the fund’s assets distributed quarterly by a qualified custodian. A fund’s custodian is not required to send reports of each investor’s net asset value.

Cedar Hill has complied with the Custody Rule either by having independent audits completed by June 30 or by submitting to a surprise exam and holding assets with a qualified custodian, who sends statements of the funds assets directly to investors.

Quarterly, Cedar Hill provides its clients with a report of their portfolio holdings, transactions, and performance. We suggest our clients compare fund reports received from Cedar Hill with the reporting by the qualified custodian.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Our traditional equity and fixed income business is on a discretionary basis, i.e., the ability to buy and sell without prior consultation on the transactions. Clients sign a written investment management agreement to establish an account with Cedar Hill, prior to engaging in any transaction with us. Cedar Hill and each client agree on objectives and guidelines and create a written investment policy statement, including the type of securities to be traded and respective asset mixes, before we begin managing a client’s portfolio.

As part of our wealth management process, Cedar Hill:

- identifies client objectives including financial goals and timelines,
- develops an asset allocation plan to match client goals with risk tolerances,
- implements an asset allocation strategy designed specifically for each client, and
- monitors and evaluates performance to validate long-term client goals.

Client objectives and guidelines are reviewed as circumstances warrant. The amounts of securities bought and sold are determined by a client’s specific diversification policy in effect at the time. We cannot make discretionary investments in limited partnerships.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting Policy statement: We have adopted and implemented policies and procedures that we believe are reasonably designed to ensure that proxies are voted in the best interest of clients, in accordance with our fiduciary duties and SEC rule 206(4)-6 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. In addition to SEC requirements governing advisers, our proxy voting policies reflect the long-standing fiduciary standards and responsibilities for ERISA accounts set out in Department of Labor Bulletin 94-2, 29 C.F.R. 2509.94-2 (July 29, 1994). In general, under terms of our Wealth Management Agreement, we will not vote proxies for clients unless explicitly requested. Voting ERISA client proxies is a fiduciary act of plan asset management that must be performed by Cedar Hill, the advisor, unless the voting right is retained by a named fiduciary of the plan (DOL Bulletin 94-2).

Cedar Hill will provide a copy of these policies and procedures upon written request. These policies and procedures may be updated from time to time.

Item 18 – Financial Information

It is important to our clients to know if Cedar Hill has the financial resources to meet our contractual obligations to our clients

Cedar Hill is a fiscally sound company and has never been the subject of any bankruptcy petition. Two of the greatest financial challenges facing any business are service interruptions resulting from fraud or disaster. At Cedar Hill, we require all personnel to comply with a written code of ethics and our business continuity plans are subject to periodic review and testing. We believe that regular compliance reviews, firm audits, and disaster planning, should help us to mitigate situations potentially detrimental to our ability to provide service to our clients.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Privacy Policy statement: Cedar Hill Associates, LLC has an ongoing commitment to safeguard the unauthorized disclosure of, or access to, nonpublic personal information the Firm acquires about its current clients and potential or former clients. CEDAR HILL
WEALTH MANAGEMENT

Fair Value measurement of alternative investments: Cedar Hill has adopted the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement No. 157 – Fair Value Measurement for all supervised investments held by our clients, including alternative investments such as Cedar Hill’s proprietary funds of funds and special purpose vehicles, or direct ownership of limited partnership interests in hedge funds, private equity funds, energy partnerships, real estate assets, and other illiquid or restricted interests.

Alternative investments are not traded on public exchanges where real-time prices are available. Alternative investments are predominately long-term investment partnerships where pricing and performance are ultimately determined at the wind down of an investment or by a culminating transaction such as the sale of property.

Cedar Hill normally relies upon an investment’s general partner to determine fair value per FASB guidelines in accordance with the investment’s stated pricing methodology and audited GAAP financial statements (Generally Accepted Accounting Principles).

When a fair value is not available, Cedar Hill will use its best efforts to determine fair value based on information provided by the investment’s general partner and current market conditions. Estimated fair value of certain investments might not reflect the amount that could be received upon immediate sale, or the amount that ultimately may be realized. Portfolio management fees are calculated as a percentage of a client’s assets under management and include alternatives, but not proprietary fund investments.¹

Looking at a whole portfolio, should the net value of a the portfolio decline as a result of revaluation of alternative investments (excluding proprietary funds), Cedar Hill will credit a client account for the difference between fees paid and what would have been paid if fair value information had been available at the time of the original billing cycle. Fees for the full year will be recomputed and any credit due will be applied to a client’s management fees for the second quarter of the following year.

Cedar Hill will not charge an additional amount to clients for any retroactive increase in fair value which would have resulted in a higher management fees for the portfolio as a whole as determined by the annual fee review. However, going forward, fees calculated per the current schedule, may increase or decrease quarterly in response to changes in fair values.

Cedar Hill’s complete “Alternative Investment Valuation Policy” is available upon client request.

¹ Note: Cedar Hill’s proprietary fund investments are not included in the calculation of portfolio management fees because there are separate fee structures for each fund.
